What is SA paper?

100 Percent Organic Paper

AIDS Care is pleased to offer natural paper products as one of its finest handcraft products. Each of these paper gifts is truly a unique work of art. AIDS Care is confident you will enjoy giving these items as presents as we did seeking them out.

Sa Paper can be used for a variety of crafts and projects, including invitations, stationery, scrapbooks, printmaking, book arts, calligraphy, ink drawings, home décor applications, and much more.

Natural Handcrafted Mulberry Paper

Over 600 years ago in the mountains of northeastern Burma the Karen Hill Tribe people found a remarkable bark that naturally peeled from the trunk of the tall broad-leafed tree at the end of every rainy season. So began the craft of making natural paper without destroying or cutting down the trees. The Karen villagers called this the "Sa" tree, or in English, the Mulberry tree.

For the last hundred years, Hill Tribe papermakers have been practicing their craft in the neighboring mountains. They still use natural dyes and lay their paper in the sun to dry, as did their ancestors centuries ago.

We have assembled a large collection of unique and useful natural paper products made from this remarkable and renewable resource. This has also spawned a thriving cottage industry that helps save and not deplete these tall beautiful mountain trees.

Sa paper is 100 percent handcrafted tree bark paper, and a product of Thailand.

Handicraft project

This project has been designed in order to help people, victimized by AIDS, to increase their income in order to meet some of their daily needs.

Buying this handicraft will also help some of their children to get a higher education. Profits from the sale are set aside in a special education account.

Through this, children from the AIDS Care project can request financial support for their higher education.

Ministry

AIDS Care is a ministry to children and their families victimized by AIDS in Northern Thailand. Our vision is to see the vicious cycle of vulnerability, faced by AIDS victims, broken by God's power and unconditional love.

Our mission is to meet people, who have AIDS, with the love of Jesus, as a friend with no condemnation or demands. We will be God's loving hand, reaching out with love, care, forgiveness and grace.

Our focus is children and their families who have been victimized by AIDS.

AIDS Care is a project under the Light For Thailand Foundation and OMF International.
